

LUNA

Is this the test?

RICK

Yes, this is the test.

LUNA

Could you repeat the question?

RICK

You are camping in the desert. You wake up one morning to find a tarantula an inch away from you.

LUNA

That doesn't seem to be a question.

RICK

What do you do?

LUNA

What's a tarantula? Do you know what that's called in German?

RICK

In German?

LUNA

English is not my native language.

RICK

It certainly sounds like it is.

LUNA

My accent is good. But my vocabulary is lacking.

RICK

It's a spider. A poisonous spider.

LUNA

I'm sorry, I've forgotten the question now.

RICK

Let's try another. You are watching a movie filmed before the war. It shows a sumptuous banquet in progress. The banquet begins with oysters, continues with roasted dog—

LUNA

No one would kill and eat a dog. They're worth a fortune.

RICK

This was before the war.

LUNA

I wasn't alive before the war.

RICK

Surely you've seen movies set before the war.

LUNA

Was this in North Korea? I heard they used to eat dog there.

RICK

I want your response. Your social, emotional, moral reaction.

LUNA

I wouldn't watch that movie.

RICK

Why not?

LUNA

Who the Hell wants to watch a pre-war movie set in North Korea?
