

RICK

Would you like to see me work? I've set the station set up.

RACHAEL

Yes. I would.

(RACHAEL walks over to the station and sits down. An image of her in close up appears projected in the Empathy Box.)

Well, go ahead.

RICK

You?

RACHAEL

My Uncle Eldon's orders. Before we expose a Nexus-6 or an innocent human to your techniques, he wanted me to experience it first. Frankly, we want to make sure you're up for the job.

RICK

You are familiar with the test. That may affect the result.

RACHAEL

You expect the androids you are chasing to be unfamiliar with it?

(RICK walks over to the projection of RACHAEL. RICK will be staring at her projected image instead of her as he speaks. He takes out a timer)

RICK

Move a little to the right. A little forward. That's good.

(RACHAEL adjusts.)

You are given a calf skin wallet on your birthday.

RACHAEL

Artificial calf skin?

RICK

Real.

RACHAEL

I wouldn't accept it. I'd report the person who gave it to me to the police.

RICK

A boy shows you his butterfly collection, including his killing jar.

RACHAEL

I'd take him to a doctor.

RICK

You are camping in the desert. You wake up one morning to find a tarantula an inch away from you.

RACHAEL

I'd kill it.

RICK

You find an old pornographic magazine with a model laying nude on a bearskin rug, playing with herself.

RACHAEL

Are you testing to find out whether I'm an android or a lesbian?

RICK

Your husband sees the magazine and wants to keep it.

RACHAEL

I wouldn't let him.

RICK

Why not?

RACHAEL

I should be enough for him.

RICK

You are watching a movie filmed before the war. It shows a sumptuous banquet in progress. The banquet begins with oysters, continues with roasted dog, and then ends with a stuffed baby.

RACHAEL

That's disgusting. I don't think they ate babies.

RICK

You see me giving this test to a young girl, around twelve, with big brown eyes and dark curly hair. At the end I determine that I am speaking with an android. I shoot her.

RACHAEL

That's your job, isn't it?

RICK

OK, you can turn the camera off.

RACHAEL

Is that all?

RICK

Yes.

RACHAEL

I'll leave the camera on. You'll need it to question our Nexus-6 models.

(RICK turns off the camera.)

RICK

You're a Nexus-6.
