

EMILY AUDITION SIDES

ROSE: Oh! What? What is this?

EMILY: That's mine.

ROSE: What's it doing in my box?

EMILY: Let go of the box labeling!

ROSE: Do you not see that I was trying to avoid this confusion?

EMILY: Just give it to me.

(ROSE holds it up to inspect it.)

ROSE: It's really yours?

EMILY: Yes – why do you care so much?

ROSE: I'm just surprised. It's very fancy.

EMILY: I can be fancy.

ROSE: It just doesn't seem like something you would own.

EMILY: So? I don't share everything with you.

ROSE: You could.

EMILY: Please. We're busy people.

ROSE: I'm not that busy.

EMILY: Sure you are. You've got those kids. You've got all those papers to grade.

ROSE: I teach first grade.

EMILY: Okay, so why haven't you been calling me?

ROSE: I did.

EMILY: What? When?

ROSE: A month ago.

EMILY: What? No you didn't.

ROSE: Yes I did.

EMILY: No. I would've picked up.

ROSE: You didn't pick up.

EMILY: No. (Slight beat.) Was it a lot of months ago?

ROSE: No. It was one month.

EMILY: No. That's not right. It had to have been a lot of months ago. And I was... busy. There was... stuff. Happening. At that time. So that's why I didn't answer. Or call you back.

ROSE: It was one month ago.

EMILY: You don't know that.

ROSE: Yes I do. It was right after the Laurie situation.

EMILY: What? What situation? Who's Laurie?

ROSE: See? You would have known if you had picked up the phone.

EMILY: Well why didn't you keep calling, if it was so important to you?

ROSE: I did.

EMILY: You called me multiple times.

ROSE: Yes.

(Slight beat.)

EMILY: Well I don't remember any of that.
